Dear Dr. Dhaniyala:

On behalf of the Technical Program Committee, I am pleased to inform you that your paper has been accepted as a platform presentation at the AAAR 37th Annual Conference to be held at the Oregon Convention Center, Portland, Oregon, from October 14 to October 18, 2019. Your paper will be listed in the technical program as follows:

Session 11: Thursday, 3:45 PM - 4:00 PM

Paper Number: 11.AS.2

Big Data and Air Quality: Using Twitter Data for Air Quality Monitoring. Supraja Gurajala, SURESH DHANIYALA, SUNY Potsdam, NY

Please plan your platform presentation for 12 minutes. The total time allotted is 15 minutes, inclusive of questions and discussion. LCD projectors with Windows-compatible laptop computers will be provided, and will display either PowerPoint or PDF files. You must use the computer provided, and must pre-load your presentation on the day before your talk in the Speaker Ready Room. This will be open at the conference site beginning on Sunday, October 13, 2019. Please bring your PowerPoint or PDF file on a USB memory stick at that time. Please remember, you cannot use your own computer for your presentation!

Cancellations and Corrections: If for any reason you cannot present your paper, please contact us immediately via e-mail at support@aaarabstracts.com. Should you have corrections to the listing of your paper given above, send an e-mail under the subject line Correction to Abstract #764 to support@aaarabstracts.com. Only the corresponding author may request changes. We will try to accommodate all corrections received prior to July 19, 2019.

Registration: We are offering a special “early bird” registration rate for all conference registrations received by July 19, 2019. All presenting authors must be registered for the conference.

Lodging: We also suggest that you book your hotel early. A block of sleeping rooms has been reserved with a special rate for AAAR attendees at the DoubleTree by Hilton Portland and the Quality Inn Downtown Convention Center. The conference will be held nearby at the Oregon Convention Center. Please refer to the AAAR conference web site at <https://www.aaar.org/2019/hotel/> for all information on reservations and other special offers. If you have any questions related to logistics or need special letters of invitation, please contact Bill Carney, AAAR Executive Director, at bcarney@aaar.org.

Program Information: The conference details, program and registration information are posted at <https://www.aaar.org/2019/>

AAAR Conference Policy: The American Association for Aerosol Research prohibits photography, audio and video recording in general and platform sessions and all areas of the exhibit hall. Thank you for your compliance.

Thank you for your contribution to this year's conference. We look forward to seeing you in Portland!

Sincerely,

Nga Lee (Sally) Ng
AAAR 2019 Conference Chair
